Surat: The city located at 21°112'N 72°814'E on the coast of the Arabian Sea where the Tapti River (Tapi) passes from the middle of the city and various other creeks passes through southern part of the city which merges into the sea. Looking at the geographical location of the city, the city is prone to natural calamities like river/khadi flood, heavy rainfalls and cyclones. Keeping the motto “Surat: The city that always cares” in mind, Surat Municipal Corporation has contributed to the development of the city by providing not only the basic amenities but also the best in class infrastructure and services.

Along with the development of the city, the population of the city has also increased. With the increase in population there are possibilities of natural disasters and outbreak of disease. The impact of Global Warming and Climate Change can also contribute or cause disaster.

Considering the ideology of “Precaution is better than cure”, Surat Municipal Corporation is publishing the Disaster Management & Preparedness Plan since 2002. Disaster Management Plan of SMC consists of the guidelines and action plan for the activities to be carried out before, during and after the disaster covering various activities like rescue and relief work including relocating and rehabilitation. The aim of preparing the disaster management and preparedness plan is to reduce the response time in the event of any disaster. Such measures can help avoid human loss and reduce damages to properties. The DMP is updated with latest information every year.

This Disaster Management and Preparedness Plan also includes advanced planning and preventive measures in the event of natural disasters and outbreak of diseases. The plan contains information regarding the DO's and DON'Ts as a part of precautionary measures and information regarding first aid treatment for various disasters. The DMP also enlists the specific roles and responsibilities of employees/officers in case of disaster. Necessary training has been provided to the concern in this regard. Meetings and trainings area also organized with a view to increase people participation and to make them aware about the precautionary steps to be taken. Zone level and ward level disaster management plan is also prepared considering the decentralized administration.

We hope that this planning serves its purpose for the city.

We welcome your sincere suggestions to update this Disaster Management Plan.

CHAPTER - 3

The outlines of Rains / Floods at Surat.

Surat city is situated between 20.15' and 22.28' Longitudes and between 72.28' and 74.23' East Longitudes in Surat District area of South Gujarat. The area of Surat District is 765159 Sq. Kms. According to 2001 census, the population of Surat District is 49,95,174 and that of Surat city is 24,33,835.

Kakrapar weir and Ukai dam are the two major dams constructed in 1953 and 1972 AD respectively on river Tapi.

The History of Cyclones:

Surat district has coastal bank of 83.00 Kms & 26 villages having population of 66,781 are located on this sea coast. The population of Surat city is 24,33,835 as per last census. Occasionally Surat city has experienced heavy rains. But during the near past, it has no major impact of cyclone. Of course on the basis of historical records, the city suffered a big cyclone in 1782. It had taken a toll of a large nos. of old and new building at Burhanpuri gate. (There was no heavy toll of human life) The islands of Tapi were also submerged by it and 2000 people died. There was a heavy damage on the coastal areas also. Other Cyclones were experienced by Surat in the year of 1800 & 1872 too. But the impact of cyclone was comparatively less in Surat.

Details of rains:

Heavy rain fall is registered in Surat frequently during monsoon season in the past. According to the study of metrological department, there is possibility of flood even in case of little rain as the catchments area of the upstream portion of river Tapi is too large. Obviously, heavy rains increase the possibility of heavy floods. Rains in the city are also a cause of flood situation.

1968 Flood:

The heaviest flood in the river Tapi occurred in the year 1968. At that time 15.60 lakh cusecs water was discharged from Kakarapar weir on the river Tapi. The highest water level in river Tapi at Surat Hope Bridge was 103.50 feet. During the time of high tide in the sea the hike in water level recorded was up to 12 feet. Due to this flood, situation remained disturbed for a long period of time. During the period of 30 hrs. 25 inches of rain in Ukai and 15 inches of rain in Surat were recorded. The total area of 1360 sq.kms was flooded resulting into major losses/damages to life and property. The river overflowed at Mandvi, Baudhan, Kathor and Nana Varachha villages. Between Ahmedabad & Mumbai broad gauge railway flooded and was submerged under water. Surat City and Udhna industrial area had suffered from damages on a large scale.

Surat is situated on the banks of river Tapi & Arabian Sea is 15 km away from the city. Surat had faced natural calamities like cyclone and floods in the past, as the river Tapi passes through the city. Surat Municipal Corporation has taken precautionary measures in the past to protect the city from the damages caused by such natural calamities.

After 1968 flood, long term planning has been made for the protection against flood. This includes:

(1) Ukai dam was constructed in the year 1972 and due to these 8.40 lakh cusecs of flood water was put under control.

(2) Tapi flood protection project was sanctioned in the year 1971 by the planning commission & was revised and sanctioned in the year 1993.

Flood in the year 1994, 1998 & 2002:

After the construction of Ukai dam, flood was partially controlled. In the year 1994 and 1998 floods release of water was 5.25 lakh cusecs and 7.00 lakh cusecs respectively. Incomplete work of sluice regulators and embankments at Chhaprabhatha, Variav and Tunki were the main reasons for the entry of flood water in the city.

Due to flood in 1998, 23 villages and population of 14.50 lakh residing in 245.59 sq.km areas were adversely affected. Out of these Rander, Katargam and Umra areas of the city were worst affected. In the year 1998, release of 7 lakh cusecs of water, highest flood level of 11.40 meters (101.30 feet) was recorded at Hope Bridge on the river Tapi. Due to release of 3.25 lakhs cusecs of water, highest level of 8.20 meters (91.94 feet) was recorded at Hope Bridge of the river Tapi in the year 2002.

It has therefore, emerged that advance planning and effective long term measures for the prevention of flood is very necessary, which includes preparation of flood maps of prime areas and assessment of flood work.

Flood of August 2006 (6-8-06 to 11-8-06):

Owing to the inflow of water from the catchment area in the Ukai dam in August-2006, water was discharged on large scale from the dam which was comparatively more than the inflow of water discharged in previous years. Actually, there was a release of 6.0 to 7.50 lakh cusecs of water continuously for 13 hours and 8.0 to 9.5 lakh cusecs of water continuously for 42 hours 128 s.q.kms area of the city out of 326 s.q.kms had the impact of flood.

Details of flood in river Tapi.

The lower area of the Tapi river basin is frequently affected by floods & generally it is seen that there is a possibility of flood at an interval of four years. Surat city had suffered from 10 (ten) heavy floods in 19th century (1801-1900) and 19 (nineteen) heavy floods in 20th century (1901-2000). These floods have taken a heavy toll of life and property.

The details of floods in river Tapi between 1876 and 2014 AD

CHAPTER - 9

Know this about Leptospirosis

☞ What is Leptospirosis?

- Lepto is a contagious diseases spread through bacteria named leptospirosis caused from animal beings.
- The diseases rarely spread through the contact of man to man.
- The symptoms of the diseases are observed within 2 to 10 days after the bacteria enter the human body.
- The disease is found in persons in the age group of 20 to 45 years.
- This disease is found more in South Gujarat in areas like Valsad, Navsari and villages of Surat district in June to September monsoon.
- The disease can be detailed through Laboratory test of the blood. The facility is available in the New Civil Hospital, Majura gate, Surat.
- Early detection and treatment can save life.

☞ Where Leptospirosis is observed and how it is contacted by human beings?

- Wherever there are more of Roadents & the places where water is accumulated e.g. the rice and sugarcane farms & irrigation channels, mines and cattle feeding spots. (Roadents, squirrels, sheep, goats, pigs, dogs, cats etc)
- Through the direct contact (via wounds on the skin, scratches between) with land, mud or water contaminated by the urine, stool or parts of dead animals the disease is contracted by human beings.

☞ The symptoms of Leptospirosis:

- High fever, headache, muscle and joints pain, Redness in the white part of the eyes, blood in coughing of cough, jaundice, less urine, swelling in various glands, Swelling on the face and legs, bloody spots on skin, kidney failure, bleeding, serious effect on the heart, meningitis etc are observed in 100 % cases.

☞ Do this much to prevent death through Leptospirosis:

- Immediately on observing any of the symptoms admit the patient in new Civil Hospital, Majuragate, and Surat where treatment for Leptospirosis is available.

☞ Self protection from Leptospirosis:

- Do not unnecessarily submerge your hands / legs in accumulated water.
- Enter the farms having accumulated water, for necessary working period only.
- Wear the Boots and avoid the direct use of hands cleaning the area infected by animal urine & stool. (use of pawada should be done for intensive cleaning)
- Milking of cattle should not be done if there is scratch & wound in the hand.

DISASTER MANAGEMENT AND PREPAREDNESS PLAN

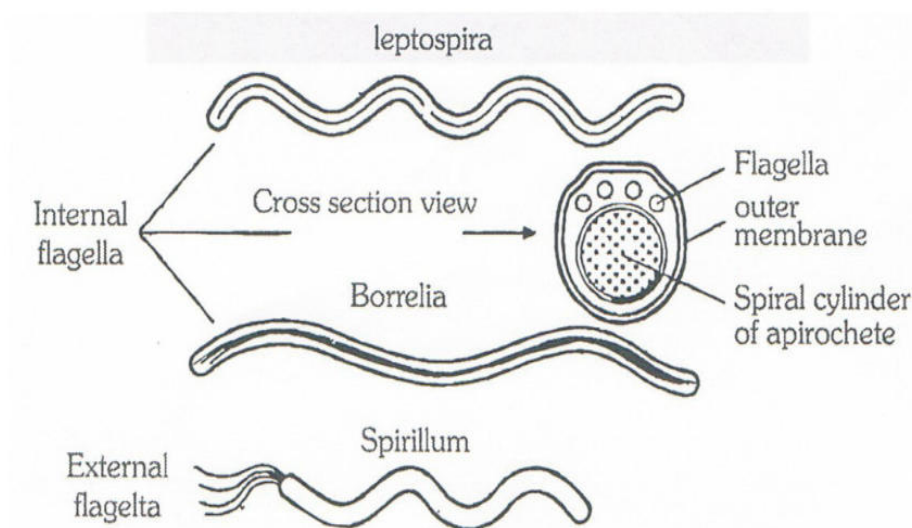

- Destroy the Roadent burrows in or near the home.
- Take care not to allow accumulation of water near the house.
- Wear the Boots while doing grass cutting work. No such work should be done if you have injury in the hand.

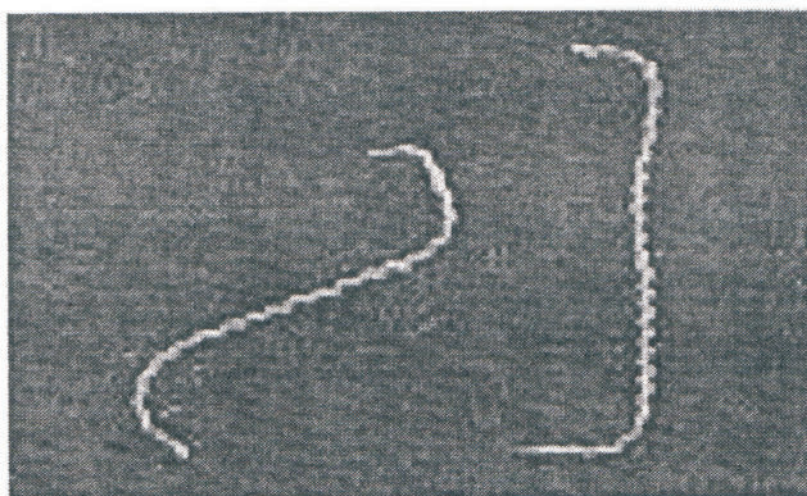

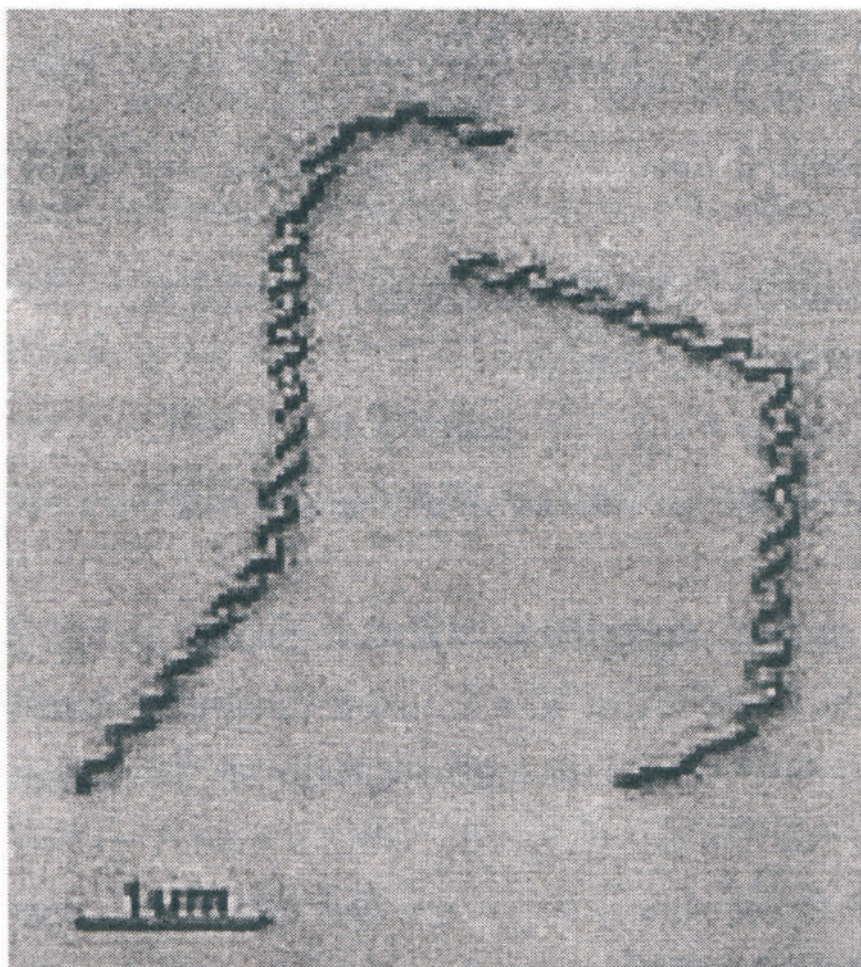

☞ Why should the treatment of Leptospirosis be done immediately?

- This disease increases (in intensity) during 2nd to 5th day of bacteria entering the blood. From 6th day onwards they start entering the kidney, liver, lungs etc. So if immediate treatment is taken, they can be destroyed in blood itself and damage to kidney etc can be stopped.

☞ Public Awareness to Prevent Leptospirosis

- Serious patients should be taken to centres of treatment in time.
- Early detection & treatment.
- Immediate information to the Health department should be provided about such cases.
- To be helpful in destroying Roadents, the information about the sickness of cattle should be instantly done & timely treatment is done.
- Only necessary persons should be involved in farming or animal husbandry.
- Self protection should be done while doing farming or animal care works.
- Full cooperation should be provided to the health employees.

First Aid

First Aid

The steps taken to keep the patient out of dangerous situation, or his getting relief in his injury or his injury does not increase or his life is not Put in danger, before he gets treatment from a doctor, or the patient is removed to a doctor or a hospital is called first aid.

The objectives of first aid

- To check up the condition of injury.
- To decide as to what type of treatment is necessary and to give such first aid.
- To arrange for removing him to appropriate place (i.e. a doctor or a hospital)

In the running of the body different systems play important part. These systems include main systems like nervous system, digestive system, respiratory system, excretory system and reproductive system.

Wounds

When the skin is cut & blood comes out because of some injury it is called a wound.

1. While dressing, firstly the wound should be cleaned with clean water or bacteria killing liquid.
2. If the wound has some waste or foreign material, it should be removed, if possible.
3. The wound should be treated by bacteria killing ointment, liquid or powder and should be covered by a tape.
4. Bandage is necessary for a deep wound.

Bleeding

Bleeding is of two types.

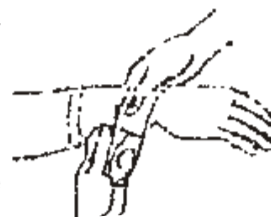

- Outside bleeding.
- Inside bleeding.

Symptoms

- Vertigo, fall down.
- The skin of the body becomes dry / cold.
- The palpitation becomes very fast but can't be experienced.
- Difficulty in respiration.
- Excessive perspiration.
- Excess thirst to the patient.

What would you do?

- External bleeding put direct pressure on the wound.
- If there is bleeding, pressure on the upper part of the heart will reduce the intensity of blood coming out (bleeding will decrease)
- Do the dressing with bandage to stop the bleeding.
- To stop the bleeding, indirect pressure that in the figure should also be done.

- Bandage should not be very fit / tight.

Internal bleeding

Internal bleeding is more serious & risky than the external bleeding.

Bone Injuries

If there is a crack in the bone or it breaks into two parts it is called fracture.

Symptoms of fracture

1. There is severe pain on touching & pressing the place of fracture or place around it.
2. Swelling
3. Difficulty in ordinary movement of fractured part.
4. The part becomes deshaped.
5. Many times shape of affected part or hand or leg is changed.
6. The part or hand-leg hangs.
7. Local impression at the place of fracture.
8. There is noise when the broken bone rubs with other part.

What care should be taken?

- Check up other injuries.
- Give the treatment first to the part which is bleeding.
- First aid should be given for fracture on the every place.

First aid of the Fracture :

What should be done?

- The part of fractured portion should be made steady & supported. This will stop unnecessary movement so that further damage can be stopped.
- Bleeding & other injuries should also be treated.
- For stopping the movement bandage or splints can be used.

What should not be done?

- Do not allow unnecessary movement.
- Do not try o bring the two ends of the broken bone near or to repair the fracture.

Fracture of some of the bones and their first aid

Fracture of the rib

Broad bandage around the chest so that there is no more movement of the ribs.

Fracture of the hand

To stop the movement of the shoulder the hand should be tied to the chest and should be steadied. To stop the movement of elbow, it should be put in bag.

Fracture between hand and wrist

Wrist must be steadied trough splints & bandage and the hand with bag.

Fracture of the hand above the wrist and of the fingers

The Wrist and fingers should be made still by giving support through splints and bandage.

The Fracture of the hip

The movement of the patient should be stopped and his legs should be tied together to make them still.

Fracture of the figure or figure?

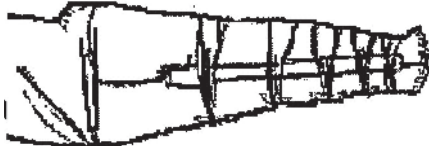

The movement of the patient should be stopped and the legs should be made still with long splints.

Fracture of the leg

The leg should be bound with splints or with other leg and be made still. The soles of should be made still by bandage bound in the shape of 8 in English.

Spraining:

What would you do?

Arrange the limbs in restful position. Support the injured part with bag or splint. Put cold packs.

Unconsciousness - swoon - shock

Whenever there is a hindrance in the ordinary activities of the mind and nerves of the patient many a time he loses consciousness. It is called unconsciousness or swoon.

Treatment of the unconscious patient

- The patient should be arranged in comfortable position and his head is on one side.
- Look whether the respiration of the patient is not disturbed.
- If necessary artificial respiration be given.
- Bleeding, if any, should be stopped.
- If you feel that there is a fracture steady that part with splints.
- Don't give anything to the patient through his mouth.

Epilepsy, hysteria or fit

- If the whole body & hands get stretched or have a fit. The person becomes unconscious eyeballs moves towards upward direction tongue gets crushed, flow of urine in clothes etc are the symptoms of fit.
- The patient becomes still within a period of one to two minutes of attack.

What would you do?

- Arrange to see that the patient sleeps on a side.
- Put soft thing like handkerchief so that his tongue is not cut or crushed.
- Be careful to see that the patient does not have an injury.

What should you not do?

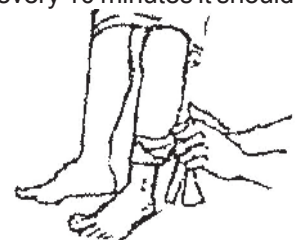

- Don't press with force.
- Don't try to open the jaws forcefully.
- Don't put strong things like spoon in his mouth.
- Do not smell onion or chhapal.

Positioning and its treatment

- Observe the physical condition of the patient.
- Observe whether the pulses & respiration are proper or not.
- See whether patient is conscious or unconscious.
- Try to know what has been taken by mouth by the patient.
- Check up whether the patient's mouth or tongue is burnt or not.
- Make him vomit if the patient is conscious and his mouth or lips are not burnt.
- If these are burnt do not try to make him vomit.
- If unconscious then also don't make him vomit. Make him sleep on chest keep his head on one side.
- Try to shift him immediately to dispensary.

Snake Bite

- Console the patient.
- Bind a fit bandage or elastic bandage on the upper part of the limb so that poison does not spread in the body. At the interval of every 10 minutes it should be loosened for half minute or a minute.

- Bleeding should be allowed to flow out by doing a few cuts around the wound with a sterilized or a new blade. So that the poison can come out. Do not try to suck out the poison as it can be dangerous.

Breathing Hindered

The proportion of respiration is 16 to 18 every minutes

The sign of hindrance to breathing are

- Vision of the eyes is obstructed and eyes become weak.
- The rate of respiration decreases & becomes difficult.
- Pulse is faster
- Some unconsciousness appears (has dizzy feelings)
- Cheeks and lips become blue.

Drowning

What would you do?

- Clean the mouth and neck, he should be made to sleep on chest keeping his face on one side. Put folded bed sheet or towel under the stomach and give pressure on the back. So that as much water as possible comes out from the stomach and chest.
- If need, artificial respiration should be done.

Choking of the Throat

- Many a time some thing enters the children's nose while they are playing. As a result, the passage for breathing is hindered. It may become pale.

- What would you do?
- Hold the child upside down with legs, and slap on the back (Keeping its stomach and chest on legs)
- In case of aged person standing behind him giving jerks on the upper side of stomach, may take out the thing from inside, due to sudden pressure on lungs.

Suffocation due to poisonous gas?

What would you do if it is poisonous gas?

- If the gas is light (in weight) go to the place in bent position. If the gas is heavier than the air remain in an erect position. Remove the patient immediately to the open air and give artificial respiration.

Artificial respiration

Three methods:

- 1 Mouth to Mouth
(picture)

- 2 Holger naels system.

- 3 Stiffer method.

Injuries because of the burning or burns

When the clothes of persons are burning take a thing like blanket wrap at around the person & make him lie on the ground on back so that burning is put out. If person's clothes are burning, he should lie the ground and should roll on the ground and try to put out the fire by a cloth or water available nearby. He should not rush out in the open air while his clothes are on fire.

First Aid for person on fire or burnt

- If it is not necessary, do not touch the burnt part.
- Burnt clothes or clothes stuck to the body should not be taken out.
- Pour cold water on the burnt part.
- Give treatment for the shock.
- If the burns are due to chemical products, then adequate use of water should be sprayed on burned portion. Burnt portion should not be covered by soil.

Other injuries

Injury of the eye what would you do?

- If some dust or foreign material has fallen in the eye, the patient should be kept in a lying position and take eye lids up and down and clean the eyes with clean water.
- If something like chemical materials falls in it, patient's eyes should be cleaned by water repeatedly.

Cholera:

- Oral Dehydration Solution (ORS) can be very useful for the child. This can be prepared by mixing two spoons of sugar and a little salt in a glass of water. The liquid given to the person should be equal to the loss of liquid. (Dehydration) from the body.

Electric shock

What would you do?

- Cut off the electric power supply
- Switch off the main switch.
- To separate the person from electric current, use wooden or other materials through which the current does not pass.

CHAPTER - 13*Flood in the Creeks: Information & Management

Mainly Varachha creeks, Koyali creeks, Mithi creeks, Kankra creek, Bhedvad creek, Chhaprabhatha creek etc pass through the Surat city. Their discharge to sea is through main creek and Mindhoela river. The water of Tena creek flows directly into the sea. In the upper flow there are taluka areas of Bardoli, Kamrej, Mahuwa (part) and Palsana.

The catchments area / length of the various creeks passing through Surat city is as under.

Sr.No.	Name of the creek	Catchment area (sq.km)	Length (km)	Creek Length (km)
1	Koyali Creek	13.25	8.35	8.35
2	Mithi Creek	154.05	53.28	6.50
3	Kankra Creek	226.42	8.15	8.15
4	Bhedwad Creek	40.50	15.00	11.01
5	Varachha Creek	85.54	24.57	5.07
6	Chhaprabhatha Creek	26.86	7.50	6.205
7	Tena Creek	25.91	6.84	-
8	Sonari Creek	71.77	21.28	7.94

Due to (i) heavy rain in the catchments areas of these creeks flow of water increases (ii) local rain / flood in the parent river etc as also (iii) there is lack of disposal of water in the creeks due to the effect of tides in the sea, the water in the creeks over flow in the following low lying areas and areas of societies around as listed below are generally affected.

- East Zone (varachha) - Areas on the outskirts of Nana Varachha, Kapodra, Karanj.
- South East Zone (Limbayat) - Magob, Dumbhal, Kamrunagar, Mithikhadi, Ratanjinagar, Krantinagar, Raonagar, Sanjaynagar, Govindnagar, Salimnagar, Mandarwaje low cost colony, 181/184 Bhathena and low lying area of Anjana Chimni Tekra.
- South Zone (Udhana) - Sanjaynagar, premnagar.
- South West (Athwa) - Rasulabad, Azadnagar, Santoshinagar, Indiranagar.
- North Zone (Katargam) - Amroli, Ganeshpura- Kosad - GHB colony, Kosad village area, motavarachha.

In addition to this, if heavy rain falls in the city area during this period, care should be taken that enough water does not flow out through the storm water drainage line laid down by Surat Municipal Corporation and as such in some low lying area of the city, there may be water accumulation or increase in the level of the accumulated water.

Due to high tide waves, sea water enters these creeks whereas generally creeks direct by dispose off the water into the sea.

This Disaster Management Preparedness Plan includes most of the preplanning and necessary steps to be taken during the disasters situation that arises due to heavy rain, flood, cyclone in the areas in the banks of the above creeks in the city for seeing that there should not be loss of life & property of the people or it should be the least and after that for carrying out rescue & relief operations for establishing the normal condition and there after doing necessary activities of rehabilitation.

- All the areas around khadi and low line areas were affected by heavy rains in Surat and District in 1998 July. After that during beginning of Aug-2013 & end of June-2005 due to heavy rains in catchments areas in the districts.
- In order that the information about upper catchments areas & of rains is continuously available & is continuously monitored, it should be provided in the form attached herewith to the central control & all zonal controls.

DISASTER MANAGEMENT AND PREPAREDNESS PLAN

For the purpose the concerned persons should remain in contact with Taluka / district control rooms of the collectorate.

- For monitoring of the level of water & is continuously between Bhathena, Jivanjyot & South Zone Office and under the bridge on Mithi Creek & for the readings of the level under the bridge near Limbayat (Mithi Creek), Bhedwad creek, kankra creek & koyali creek near the south zone office and on the bridges on other creeks marking / painting taking into account GTS, every two hours reading should be taken and filling the details of water levels of all the creeks in the attached form it should be submitted to the central control for their information.
- The concerned zone should arrange for proper information of floods in the creeks to the public so that people can shift to safe places in appropriate time.
